PACKING-HOUSE FIRE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Sept. 18.—Forty men were overcome by heat and smoke today in the burning of a packing house of Swift & Co.'s packing plant in South St. Joseph, last night. With the possible exception of Alexander Mason, a horse owner and foreman, and William J. Hill, a fireman, all were out of danger. The fire started in a basement of the cold-storage building, and it was not under control until 6 o'clock this morning. The loss about $50,000. The burning of the structure will not be interfered with. Foreman Mason tied a rope about his waist and went into the basement to fight the blaze, where he fell unconscious, and was rescued by a fireman.

Sept. 18.—I had my way I would take a couple of hundred dollars from one man or enough, and I would take the $5,000,000 from the other, and I would take which it would cost, and with it construct 1000 schools of agriculture with in the United States," declared James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railway, at the dedication of Stephen H. Hays agricultural institution, here yesterday. Mr. Hill stated with the president of the country could not be able to take care of our own people alone the prospect of exporting grain to Europe, unless the farmers studied the science of agriculture, and learned how to raise the products to the acre and the stock to the head.

WEST TRIUMPHS OVER INVADERS.

James and McLaughlin Take Champion Doubles.

May Sutton and Miss Ryan Win Ladies' Event.

Challenge Singles Match to Be Played Today.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DEL MONTE, Sept. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two more championships were decided today, the men's and women's doubles. In the latter event Miss May Sutton and Miss Elizabeth Ryan added another victory to their long list by defeating Mrs. B. O. Bruce and Miss Florence Sutton in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

The feature of the match was the net playing of Miss Ryan. The combination of Miss May's strong back-court game coupled with such net playing as Miss Ryan did this afternoon, left little opportunity for the other team to win many games, although both Miss Florence and Mrs. Bruce played excellent tennis.

In the second set, Mrs. Bruce and Miss Florence Sutton made a strong stand, kept the score even up to three-all, when the victors pulled out the necessary three games and the match.

In the gentlemen's doubles, the west-coasters, James and McLaughlin, successfully defended their title against eastern invasion, defeating the eastern team, Wright and Niles, in a very interesting four-set match.

Wright was suffering from an attack of sinusitis, but to offset this handicap McLaughlin was troubled with a strained back. Therefore the hardest work of the match fell on Niles and James.

Wright and Niles took the first three games in dashy style. The Californians won the fourth, lost the fifth, won the sixth and lost the seventh, giving the easterners a lead of 5-2 in the first set.

GIVEN A SCARE. McLaughlin did some beautiful driving at this stage of the game and the western team ran out three successive games, making a decent set. But they failed to follow up their winning streak, and the easterners annexed the next two games and first set, 7-5.

In the second set, James and McLaughlin resorted to a driving game instead of lobbing continually as in the first set. It proved to be a good move for them, as they won the set, 6-4.

The third set was the best exhibition of tennis in the match, at least to the western rooters, as James and McLaughlin hit the ball with such accuracy and power that they were almost unplayable. James, who is always an erratic player, was on his winning stroke, and could not miss anything, while McLaughlin was playing down his backhand with good headwork and well-placed drives. The easterners never had a look-in during this set, losing it by a love score.

In the final set the eastern boys made a valiant stand and fought hard against big odds, but James and McLaughlin had gained confidence in the former set and were keeping up the same pace in this set, which they won, 6-2.

By winning the challenge match James and McLaughlin not only saved the doubles title for themselves, but also won a little more confidence in the class of tennis played on this Coast. Many who had not given the easterners a chance of winning the singles, thought they would win the doubles, so this match settles all doubt about the superiority of the western over the eastern contingent that came to capture laurels. It is expected that next year a team from here may be sent East to compete in the various tournaments.

DOWN TO FINALS. During yesterday and today the junior event was finished down to the final which will be played off tomorrow morning between Charlie Rogers of Southern California and Robert Strachan of San Francisco. Both of these boys were left to the victor without the loss of a set and, according to their showing, a close match should result. In the recent Santa Barbara tournament young Strachan defeated Rogers, both in the open and junior singles, but if Rogers is playing the game he is capable of playing, he has a very good show of winning.

The tournament will be brought to a close tomorrow with three championship matches. At 10:30 the junior championships will be decided between Robert Strachan and Charles Rogers.

At 2 p.m. the challenge match in women's singles will be played between Miss May Sutton, challenger, and Miss Florence Sutton, defender.

At 3 p.m. the challenge match in men's singles will be played between Melville Long, challenger, and Maurice McLaughlin, defender.

Results of today's matches: Miss May Sutton and Miss Ryan defeated Miss Florence Sutton and Mrs. Bruce, 6-2, 6-3.

James and McLaughlin defeated Wright and Niles, 5-7, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2.

SURPRISE.

TRAVERS WINS FROM TRAVIS AT GOLF.

(Associated Press Report.)

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 18.—Play in the United States Golf Association tournament for the national amateur championship progressed today to the final stage. With the close of the day's work on the links here only two of the original 132 starters survive. These are Jerome D. Travers of Montclair, N. J., and Max Behr of the Morris County Club, in the same State.

The two jerseys will meet in a 36-hole final match tomorrow.

The match between Travers and Travis was an eye-opener for today's big gallery from start to finish, and at the end of the first half of the match Travers had the champion one down on the eighteenth green. The afternoon play was for the greater part in favor of Travis, but when the young champion

READY FOR BALDY DASH.

Drivers and Mechanicians of White Steamer and Kisselkar to Rest Today—Start Tomorrow.

Both drivers and mechanicians who expect to make the dash to North Baldy tomorrow morning will rest today. The White steamer and the Kisselkar have received their final overhauling preparatory to the start from Fourth and Broadway at 5:30 o'clock. The machines will leave thirty minutes apart, and the first car should reach Promont Peak at about 4:15 o'clock. Hundreds will go to the New-baldy grade to watch the machines fly by.

Never before has such interest been taken in the century dash. Every automobile man in town will be anxious to learn the result tomorrow. That the record for the climb will be lowered all are agreed. The course has been repaired in places, but it is still rough and dangerous. It is practically impossible for either car to be driven to the limit over the entire course.

Both drivers and mechanicians are claiming many things for their machines, and it is certain that both the White Steamer and the Kisselkar will be driven in fast time to the summit. Those who are watching the events leading up to the start are satisfied that the chances are even as it is possible for them to be.

Ryus has perhaps an advantage in knowing the road better than Latham, but Latham is a faster driver than the White steamer man and will take more chances on the road.

TROUBLE IN THE RANKS.

A.A.U. of the United States Threatens to Withdraw from the Parent Body.

(Associated Press Report.) NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—It has become known that the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States are seriously considering the severing of relations with the Amateur Athletic Union, which was chiefly responsible for Tom Longboat, the Indian runner, competing in the London Marathon race, notwithstanding the fact he had been decided a professional runner by the former body.

The feeling shown toward the American committee at the Olympic games has nothing to do with this attitude of the A.A.U. officials, the secretary of Longboat being the sole cause.

BRUISING FINISHES.

DING POINTER A WINNER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PEORIA (Ill.) Sept. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Great Western fall meeting was brought to a close here today. Both the 2:35 pace and the 2:11 trot were filled with interest. The former was a duel between Ding Pointer and Hazel Simmons. Ding Pointer won the next three miles after bruising finishes. The time, 2:07 1-2, made in the second heat is the fastest made in the class this season with the exception of miles by Minor Heir and The Del.

The 2:11 trot was long drawn out owing to a general impediment upon the track. The race was set back to last place. The winner, Hazel Simmons, won the third heat and won by a nose, but Baraja won the next two miles handily.

Champs Work Bunting Game in Scientific Way.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One run would have been enough to beat Oakland today but the Angels made it four for good measure and meanwhile they blanked the Commuters.

Not only did Berry's men win the game but they did it in easy fashion, outplaying the tail-enders at every stage, fielding better, hitting better and laying down bunts which they beat out with a regularity that must have been discouraging to the losers.

It was another cold day—far too cutting a wind for baseball fans—but the regulars were on hand just the same and watched it through to the bitter finish.

Loucks started for the Oaks but did not finish. He lasted four innings, during which time he ran and bled eight hits were made. Pop Hardy was more successful in that he escaped in all his innings save one when the hits were bunched against him. The Oaklanders had many a narrow escape, however, as there was in the last inning when the Southerners made things unpleasant with men on the bases.

Oakland started the first inning with a three-run lead, but it was a triple because D. Lewis misjudged it out in center field. With Wheeler out he was bunted home by Dillon, who beat the ball to first. A double play retired the Angels.

Hosp made the second run in the first inning. Easterly singled with a double through the infield, but Loucks, who was in the lead, was bunted home by Dillon, who beat the ball to first. A double play retired the Angels.

The Chicago Bloomer Girls will be the piece de resistance in the baseball programme to be given at Chutes Park tomorrow afternoon. A double-header is arranged, one game between the Bloomer Girls and the Chutes, nine and another between the Chutes and Athletics teams.

Johnson and Morton will form the battery for the first exhibition to be given tomorrow, and a second game will be played at the same grounds on Tuesday afternoon. The team will play a series of line-up tomorrow, and a fast exhibition is promised if the girl ball tossers play anywhere up to their usual game.

Capt. Birdie Carleton acts as coach to the girls, and he success met with in the last three seasons is credited largely to the unique methods of the lady instructor. Capt. Carleton first made his name as a baseball manager in 1920, when the Intrepid player took the New York Stars, a girls' squad, through a successful trip to Cuba.

Birdie has been in the ball business ever since, and knows the fine points of the game as well as the players. Graw and Chance and the rest of the major league managers.

Phil Knell, president of the club, has resigned, and Lou Schroeder, formerly president of the Alameda Club, will succeed him.

The club is reported to be in a state of confusion, and it is reported that a number of new men will replace present members of the team.

Went at Billy as He Would at Big Punching Bag.

Knows He Can Beat White Champ Next Time Out.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stanley Ketchel is back in a big red auto looking like a conqueror instead of a defeated middleweight. Stanley is as confident as ever and says the fight doesn't count, as Papke won because of his own gross carelessness. He said:

"When Papke fought me in Milwaukee he would jab and jab, and then try to cross. I went at him in Los Angeles as if he were a big punching bag. Instead of jabbing, he hit me the hardest punch he delivered in the opening round. It struck me across the bridge of the nose, and after that I couldn't see him."

"I say Papke has a hard punch. I can't see that. Even when he hit me all but out he would have hit me repeatedly on the jaw before I would go down. It struck me across the bridge of the nose, and after that I couldn't see him."

Papke has put a quietus on any talk of his fighting Tommy Burns, or any other heavyweight. He received a dislocated ankle and the club, nine and another between the Chutes and Athletics teams.

Italians to Celebrate.

Under the auspices of the Italian Relief Committee the whole Italian population will commemorate the thirty-eighth anniversary tomorrow of the entry of the Italian army into Rome. This is the most glorious day for Italians all over the world, as it is the anniversary of the "Italia Unita"—united Italy, and the fall of the temporal power of the Popes. The committee in charge of the affair announces that a ball and literary exercises will be given at the Italian Hall, No. 442 North Main street, Sunday at 8 o'clock p.m. The proceeds will be devoted to the care of indigent Italians.

The six hundred and eighteenth anniversary of the founding of the republic of Switzerland will be commemorated Sunday by the large Swiss population of Southern California at Casanova's ranch, near Ballena. J. R. Tomasini of San Francisco will be the principal speaker, answering the toast, "The Swiss Native Sons of California." Other speakers will be Prof. R. T. Berra and L. La France of this city. John E. Zuchelli of the Italian-American will respond for "The Press." The committee of arrangements has made all preparations and expects a large crowd to the invitation entertainment.

LIQUOR OUT OF CLUBS.

University and Concordia Decide to Suspend its Sale Pending Appeal to Supreme Court.

At a meeting of the directors of the University Club yesterday, it was decided to suspend the sale of liquors at the buffet on account of the opinion of Judge Ewing upholding the city ordinance governing the sale of intoxicants, and pending the final decision of the State Supreme Court, to which the case will be carried by the joint committee of the social clubs of the city.

City Prosecutor Woolwine stated yesterday that he has treated all the clubs with the greatest consideration, but that hereafter he will act upon the evidence of any illegal sale of liquor toward them as he will in the case of any common lawbreaker. He received word that the Concordia Club had resolved to discontinue the sale of liquor pending the appeal to the Supreme Court.

Meanwhile no change has been announced by the directors of the California, Jonathan and other clubs regarding the stand they have taken for the sale of liquor to members without a license, and it is understood that the former decision to continue their sale, pending the appeal to the Supreme Court, holds good.

ACCUSATION OF WIFE MURDER
DRIVES TO SUICIDE.

Maj. Gen. Luard, Whose Wife Was Mysteriously Slain Near London Last Month, Throws Himself in Front of Train—Son Due Home from Transvaal.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

WATERBURY (Eng.) Sept. 18.—Maj. Gen. Charles Edward Luard, retired, whose wife was mysteriously murdered near London August 24, committed suicide today by throwing himself in front of a railroad train. His body was found later close to a railroad crossing not far from Waterbury.

Col. Warde found a letter from Gen. Luard saying his body would be found under the train. He explained that such awful accusations had been made against him that he could no longer stand the strain. The general had received letters accusing him of having murdered his wife.

Mrs. Luard was shot near Seven Oaks on the afternoon of August 24, a few moments after her husband had left her to go to a year-by-club on an errand. When he returned, he found her dead.

The tragic death of the general, who was the last person to see his wife alive and the first to find her body, has revived interest in this murder which the police authorities thus far have been unable to unravel.

The inquest, which is to be resumed next week, has not revealed the slightest clue to the murderer. All the witnesses agree that Mrs. Luard had an enemy in the world, while the facts dispute the theory of robbery because Mrs. Luard's purse and rings which were taken from her body, were of little value. An expert testified that it was impossible for the bullets which caused death to have been fired from any of the revolvers owned by Gen. Luard.

"You will find my body at the Teston crossing. I am sick of the scandalous and lying reports and I cannot face my son, whom I expected to meet today, and I have decided to end my life."

Gen. Luard's son, who is an army officer, is expected to arrive at Southampton today from the Transvaal.

STRANGEST MYSTERY HOAX OF PHANTOMS.

Creator, Finding Them Too Troublous, Resorts to Death.

Police Investigation of Remarkable Telephone Calls That Caused Distress and Family Complications, Discloses Group of Imaginary Persons in One Woman's Mind, She Talking for Them—Dorothy's End.

WITH the assistance of the University police, a most remarkable hoax was cleared up yesterday, in which a mysterious Miss Dorothy La Mont (who never existed, except as a voice over the telephone, and a phantom in the mind of a woman, supposed to be Mrs. L. B. Stauffer, living at No. 3523 South Hope street) was the central figure, surrounded by a galaxy of imaginary relations and ethereal friends.

La Mont, Died at Fresno, Sept. 13, 1908. Of Previous Prostration. Miss Dorothy Blanche La Mont, aged 17 years 2 months 13 days, daughter of the late Mrs. Eleanor Hartman and sister of Mrs. Mabel Kelly, 841 S. W. St., and Mr. Ralph La Mont of Oakland, Cal. Miss La Mont was an unusually bright girl, a brilliant scholar and a talented musician, her gentle disposition won her many friends. She was loved by all who knew her and her loss will be deeply felt. Interment Salt Lake City, Utah.

Facsimile of the Original Mysterious Death Notice which appeared on Wednesday, announcing the passing of a person who apparently never existed.

Learning two months ago that this weird form of amusement, or whatever it may have been intended, was making trouble that might be traced to her, the creator caused her phantoms to move out of town one by one, or die in other parts of the country, and she capped the climax by putting the death notice of Miss La Mont, the central figure, in the local papers, at considerable expense.

This death notice was printed in The Times on Wednesday, last. LA MONT, died at Fresno, September 13, 1908, of nervous prostration. Miss Dorothy Blanche La Mont, aged 17 years 2 months 13 days, daughter of the late Mrs. Eleanor Hartman and sister of Mrs. Mabel Kelly, 841 S. W. St., and Mr. Ralph La Mont of Oakland, Cal. Miss La Mont was an unusually bright girl, a brilliant scholar and a talented musician, her gentle disposition won her many friends. She was loved by all who knew her and her loss will be deeply felt. Interment Salt Lake City, Utah.

INQUIRY ABOUT DOROTHY. Many of the persons who have been annoyed by this mysterious Dorothy La Mont read the notice and began to inquire for more information about her, as this was the first real apparent fact that had ever cropped out regarding her.

Messages were sent to Fresno inquiring about her death, to which the reply came that no such person had died there. A message to locate Mr. Ralph La Mont of Oakland brought the reply that no physician of this name lived there. The latter believed that the answer to a third message that no La Mont funeral had been held there.

At the same time Lavelle was called up now and then by the voice, and he believed that she had "thrown over" him, and that he was angry about it. At the first the two real estate men took to "joshing" each other about the girl, but thinking the other was well acquainted with Lavelle, they became rather suspicious of each other, and finally each decided that the other was "daffy" over a pretty "fresh" girl.

Mrs. L. B. Stauffer, to whose telephone mythical Miss La Mont and the other trouble-stirring phantoms were traced, but who denies that she had anything to do with them. Sketched from life by Coxen.

Dorothy's aunt had died, leaving her a lot of money. VERY PERSISTENT. About this time Davis began to be annoyed by the continual calling up, and he tried to put an end to the matter by telling the party at the other end to quit. This proved of no avail, and so he said a few rather disparaging things the next time he was called. Then his parent took a hand and tried to tell the girl to desist, but she called up just as regularly. An investigation located the telephone numbered South 1223, at No. 615 East Twenty-first street. A call there one day brought forth the information that Dorothy La Mont was not in, but was away at school.

The affair took a new turn shortly after, when a friend of Mrs. R. E. Lavelle was called up by a woman who said she was a friend of Dorothy La Mont, and told the girl she was being laid astray by a real estate agent who had an office at Western avenue and Washington street, and who was a married man. Then the party asked that something be done to save the girl. Other persons were notified, and an investigation resulted in locating Lavelle as the real estate agent.

Plot becomes hot. He knew all about Dorothy La Mont as a voice over the telephone, but denied that he had ever seen her. Things became very warm within a week. Mysterious voices called up friends of Mrs. Lavelle and told her that her husband was with Dorothy La Mont in his office at that very moment. One in particular gave her name as Mrs. Esmer Elson, and said she lived at No. 2115 Harvard boulevard, and that from her house she had seen Lavelle and Dorothy walking past. An investigation developed the fact that there was no house at this address, and no one of that name in existence.

At the same time Lavelle was called up now and then by the voice, and he believed that she had "thrown over" him, and that he was angry about it. At the first the two real estate men took to "joshing" each other about the girl, but thinking the other was well acquainted with Lavelle, they became rather suspicious of each other, and finally each decided that the other was "daffy" over a pretty "fresh" girl.

Both were led to believe that the girl was about 17, very pretty, and an heiress; that she was staying in Los Angeles, and going to school, part of the time at the Polytechnic High School and later to night school. The name of the woman with whom she was staying was given as Mrs. Clark, and Davis was invited to call her up. A short time later he was told by "phone" that

Police Sergeant Fights With Hundred Foes.

Puts Celestials to Flight Single-handed.

Tong War Starts at Meeting in Chinatown.

Fighting for his life, with only his fists as weapons, Acting Sergeant George Willett of the Chinatown police squad last night stopped a riot in the Chinese Masonic Hall, in which more than 100 armed celestials were participating.

When the dust settled and the frightened yellow men were scrambling down the narrow exit of the building, Willett emerged from the melee, without a scratch, while twenty-two battered Chinese warriors had to be assisted to their homes.

The riot of last night will probably precipitate another tong war more terrible than that of less than a year ago. The meeting at the Masonic Hall had been called to settle up differences between two tongs.

A member of the Hop Sing tong, one of the factions in the last Chinese war, had engaged in a deal with the Gee How tong. The Hop Sing man bought a ranch from a Gee How man. An argument arose over the payments, and the purchaser turned his case over to his terrible tong for settlement. The seller immediately sought the protection of the Gee How tong, and hostilities were brewing when Officer Willett suggested that the case be sent to the Six Companies at San Francisco for settlement.

The meeting last night on Apollonia street was for the purpose of agreeing to refer the differences to the big headquarters. CHINKS COME ARMED. Willett was invited to attend, but, contrary to his custom, arrived too late to search the Chinese as they entered the narrow hallway leading to the temple rooms on the second floor. In that way many Chinese carrying guns got into the hall.

When Willett, who is over six feet tall and powerfully built, arrived, a friendly argument was in progress. At one end of the long hall, the altar, trimmed with silver and gold, and shining with silks and satin, housed the great war god, who grinned savagely at the yellow men. The gorgeous trimmings of the room swayed gently in the thick clouds of smoke from the pipes of the throng.

Willett surveyed the crowd, and decided to keep close watch. The hall was so crowded that some of the men were compelled to stand on the small balcony overhanging the narrow street below. The officer's first intimation of trouble came when one of the Chinese orators began to swear in Chinese at the other tong men. A growl of disapproval came from the yellow ranks, and Willett took a step forward, ready to stop the trouble. The speaker went gamely on, calling the members of the opposite faction all the vile names in the Chinese vocabulary.

Suddenly the entire crowd leaped into action. Pipes were used as clubs, and began to knock about on the shaven pate of the tong men. A heavy roar went up from the mass and it began to sway. Into the crowd of surging fighting men Willett leaped. Two yellow men dressed in American clothes were locked in a death struggle on the floor, biting and gouging at each other. One of the combatants had lost all the skin from his forehead and was bleeding from a wound under his right eye. The other was spitting blood between his puffed and swollen lips.

NO MERCY ON SHOPLIFTERS.

ARREST OF MRS. LEWIS STARTS NEW CRUSADE.

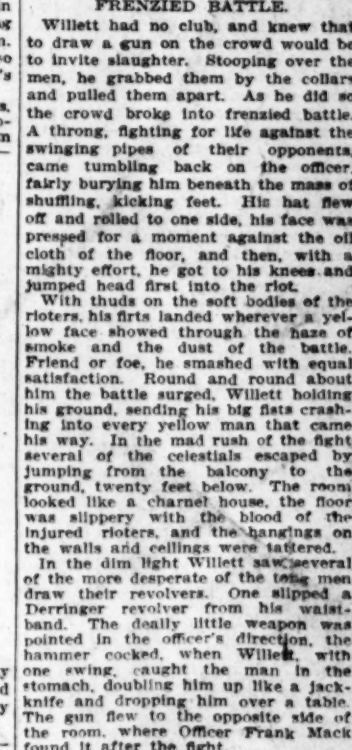

Department Stores Join to Prosecute Thieves—Last Prisoner Caught With Much Plunder Concealed on Her Person—Lately Released from City Jail, May "Go Higher."

With more than a score of articles of stolen property concealed on her person, Mrs. Louise K. Lewis, alias Louise Carnes, was arrested yesterday by Mrs. M. A. Root, house detective of the Broadway Department Store.

At the time of the arrest, Mrs. Lewis had just lifted eight pieces of fine lace from a counter in the store and had concealed the articles beneath the jacket she held on her arm. When Mrs. Root took her prisoner to a private room in the store and searched her she found many articles of value which were later identified by managers from other department stores.

Mrs. Lewis, who was lately released from the City Jail after serving out a sentence of two months on a shoplifting charge, will be arraigned in court today on a complaint alleging petty larceny with a prior conviction. Upon being convicted of this offense the penalty will be a term in State's prison.

CREDITORS OF DORR MAY GET A FOURTH.

WITH Receiver Carroll Allen back from an investigation of Fred Dor's assets in Chicago, New York and other cities, work on the expert examination of the embarrassed broker's accounts is being rushed to a finish, and Allen's report may be ready for the court early next week. Dor is said to be in New York, and the time of his home coming is not known by friends here, nor do they know his business, if any, in the East.

While no official announcement has been made, it is learned that the examination of Dor's accounts shows liabilities aggregating about $350,000. Against this large sum the assets are understood to show between $80,000 and $90,000, prima facie. Whether the assets will be increased or decreased by Allen's investigation is not known, as Allen declines to talk of them. Nor is it known whether Allen discovered any liens in the stock exchanges on Dor's memberships.

DISAPPOINTING.

After the publication of the death notice all the many people who had overheard the Lavelle case, and the principals themselves, were called up, and told to look in the paper and see the death notice of Dorothy La Mont. All were told that the girl was returning from Oakland with Mrs. Clark, and forced to get off at Fresno, where she died. Also that Mrs. Clark would take the body to Fresno. The person who did this telephoning said that she had been necessary for a job, and that her telephone number was South 1329.

A thorough investigation, including talks with all the people who had been annoyed by the mysterious Dorothy La Mont, whom no one had ever seen, resulted in proving that all of the telephoning, or nearly all of it, had been done from South 1223.

From the office of the Sunset company it was learned that this "phone" had been four years in the name of A. H. Stauffer, husband of Mrs. L. B. Stauffer.

At the time of her former arrest Mrs. Lewis refused to give her name. She was held in jail four days before she finally consented to give a name in court, and Justice Frederickson told her that she would be held in the matron's department until she decided to treat the court in a respectful manner. She relented on the fourth day and said her name was Carnes. This was later found to be an alias. Under that name she was sent to jail for two months.

Her arrest means a general campaign against the horde of petty shoplifters who have infested the big department stores recently. Yesterday

She enters a crowd of shoppers, drops the jacket to the counter and when she picks it up to go away she lifts some article from the counter, hiding it in the folds of the jacket. She transfers this article to the bag before entering another store and repeating the performance.

The noise of the battle could be heard for a block and the street was filled with frightened Chinese, beaten into submission by the officer. The celestials began to forget their difficulties and tried to escape. A many of them kept on fighting, striking at Willett or bounding one another. The Gee How men and the Hop Sing men were thumped right and left as Willett, with his fists rumpled and soiled and his hair towed, fought them to a finish. For once in the history of Chinatown, the yellow men had a chance to ascertain what real fighting means.

PUTS 'EM TO FLIGHT. Those who were able, fled down the stairway and out into the street like frightened rabbits. During the fight Willett was kicked in the stomach, but it didn't stay his aggressiveness. When the dust began to settle some of the Chinese were assisting their brother tong men to get out. They hurried them away to wash off as much of the blood as possible, while Officer Frank Mack, who had just

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Supplies for the departments of the city are to be bought by a new bulletin system.

The City Auditor reported an inventory of assets of Los Angeles yesterday, showing the present worth of the city to be over $100,000,000.

A new milk ordinance will be offered to the Council at its next meeting by the Board of Health.

Barney McCue yesterday turned over to Public Administrator Bryson $400 in coin and bills found by him in the bed of Dan Griffith, who died at the County Hospital last Monday.

Registration Clerk R. L. Brown announced yesterday that over 98,000 voters have registered in the county to date this year.

Oliver Seward, who believes himself divine, was committed to Patton by the Lunacy Commission yesterday.

Harry Safady was examined yesterday by Judge James on an order to show cause why he should not pay his wife alimony.

A contest of the will of Mrs. Nellie E. Cressley by her brother, H. M. Daniels, and her sister, Mrs. Jessie Baxter, was filed in the Superior Court yesterday.

NEW METHOD TO BUY SUPPLIES.

OPEN DOOR BULLETIN SYSTEM FOR ALL BIDDERS.

Committee, Tired of Complaint and Cumbersome, Will Recommend Change in Method of Notification When Articles Are Needed by Department—City Purchasing Agent.

Tired of complaints from bidders and satisfied with the inadequacy of the present system of purchasing supplies for the city, the Supplies Committee of the Council has decided to make a decided change and will provide for it in an ordinance to be presented probably at Monday's session.

Two huge black bulletin boards are now standing at the entrance to the Supplies Committee's office. These are to be the one means in future of announcing to prospective bidders the articles to be purchased. The boards are to be divided into different subjects and the regulations in each class are to be posted for the benefit of all who want to make proposals. The committee will probably establish the rule that nothing posted later than Thursday noon of each week may be bid on at the regular session of the committee the following morning. In this way bidders may know the last minute when bids may be asked and will not be required to watch the bulletin every day.

The present system of sending out notices to competitors in different lines costs the city a considerable postage stamp account and often produces no result. The firms notified may often be without some of the articles required. Under the new plan the competition will be open to any one who wishes to bid and the "out of stock" items, it is believed, will disappear.

The information of favoritism will also vanish, the committee feels. As all the supplies used by the departments of the municipal government are purchased through the committee the new system is intended to serve economy of time for bidders and department alike. As it might be possible for regulations for certain grades of goods to be followed by substitution of cheaper ones by collusion with bidders the committee is considering how the actual receipt of the article specified may be checked. And this led to speculation as to the feasibility of a city purveyor, or purchasing agent, who would not only be the buyer but the custodian and distributor of the articles used. It is believed that such an official, watching the markets closely, would be able to prove a great economy because the Supply Committee admits that it is possible to "sting" it frequently on articles that are from an unfamiliar market.

Councilman Wren, chairman of the Supplies Committee, hopes the new experiment will prove a success and that the end of complaints and dissatisfactions will come and that the city will get the benefit of larger competition.

CERTIFIED MILK.

NEW ORDINANCE PROPOSED.

The sale of milk in Los Angeles is to be subject to new regulations if the ordinance approved by the Board of Health and now ready for action by the Council passes. The existing ordinance is not deemed wide enough in scope and definite enough in detail to protect the milk market, and a new one has been decided on. Under it every dealer in milk must have a permit, to be issued without cost, from the health department, and it is made unlawful to "bring or receive, or to cause or permit to be brought or received" any milk into the city without the necessary permit. There are also regulations as to the feeding of the cattle whose milk is to come to Los Angeles for consumption and the right of inspection by health officials at any time. All authority to insure titillation at dairies, whether in the city or in the county, is vested in the board, and the milk must be cooled to 70 deg. before it is placed in closed receptacles. The standards fixed for milk are: Solids, 12.5 per cent. (butter fat 3.5) and water 87.5. Cream must contain 20 per cent. butter fat, condensed or evaporated milk must contain 24 per cent. milk solids (6 per cent. butter fat) and condensed or evaporated skimmed milk, 18 per cent. solids. Buttermilk must also contain 18 per cent. milk solids. There must be no adulteration.

For violating the ordinance a fine of not more than $200 may be imposed and imprisonment not exceeding 100 days added. The health department has confidence that the ordinance will enable it to meet the impure milk situation fully and especially to stop the sale of watered buttermilk.

FEAR INUNDATION.

ASK CITY FOR RELIEF.

Property owners on Thirty-sixth street and Thirty-sixth Place appeared before the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon to demand protection from the overwhelming water that afflicts them in the rainy season. By street grades established in the early years, and by the Southern Pacific embankment south of them, these streets have been made a basin for the watershed of a large area, and in the rainy season inundation is the rule. Since the improvement of Vermont avenue, which cuts off the water in the same direction, the residents of the two streets are in a state of alarm. Relief was once attempted by a proposed improvement assessed against part of the watershed area, but this was defeated.

Speaking for the residents, W. M. Bowen, former Councilman and chairman of the Board of Public Works, asked that the city provide an outlet for this water at its own expense by making six-foot gutters in the streets to a proper discharge point. While Mr. Bowen did not say so, the estimated cost of such a scheme is about $20,000. Gen. Chaffee of the board said he thought the city ought to take care of the water. The board will send the petition back to the Council, in all probability, with a request that money be do the work appropriated, and the board will carry it out.

SIXTEEN MILLIONS.

WORTH OF LOS ANGELES.

According to an inventory of city property supplied by the various departments to City Auditor Muesel, Los Angeles has a present worth of $16,335,715. This represents a per capita value of $80 to the population. And this does not include the property of the aqueduct, which is worth millions more. Its inventory is expected soon.

The most valuable single possession of the city is Central Park, containing only four and one-quarter acres, but which is appraised at $2,500,000. It and parks furnish over half the value in the municipal assets, but the water department furnishes the largest single item. The inventory, as assembled by the Auditor, shows:

DAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1908.

SCRAPS OF WIT.

Why, that's a regular little prince, remarked the visitor.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Popple, "when he was on his birthday."

"What a complete little thing! It's a pity he's not a king," answered the visitor.

"I don't know; but Willie is," answered Mrs. Popple.

Successful Business Instinct.

"See, here," protested the newly-made check calls for $10,000 only. You have a dowry of $10,000."

"That's all right, my son," answered the father, "always take off 2 per cent. for cash."

For Business.

"The day of miracles is past."

"Oh, I don't know. The order for the get off the street restored sight to a Philadelphia Ledger."

Other Ailments Also.

"She: Do you think nervousness can be suggested?"

"No, but I think a good many are cured by auto suggestion."

Letter of Heredity.

"How spirituelle she seems."

"No wonder. Her mother was a medium. She was a chronic tippler."

Best Kind of Soil.

"Looks like rather poor soil in this entry," said the stranger.

"Well, it ain't," replied the native. "The adjoining farm plowed up a tin can one day last week."

Should Suspect His Motive.

"You want to look out for de man in advice," said Uncle Eben. "He he's one of dese folks dat like to see you while some one else takes all de change."

Where Animals Differentiate.

"A little girl who had listened to a lecture on fakers in literature, when she saw a human and animal families, replied: 'A brute is an imperfect beast; man is a beast with a library.'"

Reason for Worry.

"What's the matter, dear?" asked the doctor.

"Are you worried about Mr. Pumpernickel?"

"Yes," replied the doctor.

"Very little. He says he doesn't expect to pay more than one-third of the price."

Quaker Aphorisms.

"Isn't always the high flyer who gets off the ground?"

"Even when he diets the conductor of the fare."

"The one debt that a man generally makes is a successful man's opportunities in making."

"Love in a cottage is generally the result of a man who is on the level of the imagination."

"The man who gets along."

"Every man should have an aim in life. He couldn't hit the side of a barn."

A New York rouser complains that the on air. Well, they have to put it in the Detroit Free Press.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES THE BEST AND THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY

Hamburger's Are Headquarters for School Books and Supplies

Los Angeles parents long ago learned that Hamburger's was "the place" to buy school books and supplies of all kinds. "What Others Advertise We Sell for Less" is applicable to any piece of well known or worthy merchandise in the "Big White Store." This is why more and more school books and supplies are sold by Hamburger's each succeeding year. This is to be the greatest sale of school books and supplies in the history of the store—because we've so many more books and a vastly larger assortment of supplies of all kinds. Possibly twice to three times as many as carried by any other store in the State.

OCEANS OF ROOM AND 100 EXTRA SALESPERSONS—Our big new basement will be devoted to this great sale. No crowding; no waiting; and absolutely everything you will need for school work.
